

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22d, 1905.

In a debate on Canadian reciprocity in one of our schools, an argument advanced by a student against the policy was that the Canadian eggs would be thrown on our market. That argument is especially good, if the eggs are bad.

The Pension Department reports that about 150 veterans of the Civil War die every day. This is the highest known since the war and is large enough to offset any increase in the number that may result from the operation of pension order No. 78, and in fact that increase is much less than the death rate at present.

There are four towns in Lamoille county that are without public libraries. In these days of educational advancement no town should be without a library and as the state makes a liberal inducement we trust that these four towns will see that the proper article is inserted in the warning and at the March meeting vote to have a town library. Lamoille county ought to be "unanimous" on town libraries.

The Republicans of Burlington have placed in nomination for Mayor of that city a strong man in J. W. Goodell. He is a man who has had large experience in the city's affairs, having served in various municipal capacities and is one whom no one can say aught against. He will make a worthy Mayor and his election to that honorable position will please a multitude of friends outside of the city as well as those within its borders. He is worthy of a rousing majority.

One of the best, if not the best, ever got out by a Vermont Superintendent of Schools is the thirty-eighth school report just issued. Superintendent Ranger has put an immense amount of work in this report, which gives the exact condition of educational affairs in the state. It is replete with statistics and information of a very valuable character and it is presented in such a way that it is made plain as well as interesting. All interested in the educational affairs of Vermont should study this report. The State has in its present Superintendent, an indefatigable worker. No part of the duties pertaining to his office are slighted in the least degree by him.

The death of Gen. Lew Wallace removes a noble general, a worthy diplomat and one of the world's most engaging authors. He was a brave general in the dark days of the rebellion and as Governor of New Mexico he performed a great service in putting an end to lawlessness and the reign of terror by outlaws in that territory. His duties as Minister to Turkey were performed with great credit to himself. But best of all will he be remembered as the author of "Ben Hur" the beautiful and popular story of the Christ. Not only has it been read in all parts of the world and translated into many different languages, but it has also been successfully dramatized.

Another assassination has taken place in Russia. This time the victim is Grand Duke Sergius, an uncle of the Czar, who had exercised immense influence at the court and was regarded as the most reactionary of the Grand Dukes. He was blown to pieces by a dynamite bomb thrown under his carriage at Moscow. The deed which was committed by agents of the terrorists, has made a profound impression in Russia. According to the dispatches it has served to strengthen the movement in favor of peace with Japan. More and more the Russian people are coming to see that a foreign war, thousand of miles distant, cannot be carried on to advantage by the Czar, while internal troubles threaten the stability if not the very existence of his government.

A military balloon came down in the grounds of the Hattin, England, Lunatic Asylum the other day. One of the inmates enthusiastically received the undaunted Lieutenant in the basket as "the prophet Elijah."

The Cream Separator World's Record

It has come to our attention that the representatives of our "Would-be competitors," in order to bolster up their sales, are claiming that the United States Cream Separator did not make a World's Skimming Record at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo. The United States Separator did make that record, and beat out the De Laval Separator, and every other separator that dared to enter the contest.

We Will Give $5,000.00

to any State Dairyman's association before whom the De Laval Separator Co. can prove that the U. S. did not beat them, provided the De Laval Co. will give $5,000.00 if the U. S. did beat the De Laval Separator in that contest—the amount to be distributed in premiums.

Again these "Would-be competitors" are claiming they were awarded a Grand Prize at Paris in 1900. We have made them own up in the papers in days gone by that they did not get such a prize, but they start up now, thinking, no doubt, that the public has forgotten that admission. They advertise lots of other things not in accordance with the facts. It troubles them immensely because the United States is beating them in all contests.

The United States Separator has beaten the De Laval Separator in every National or International Exposition, where contests have been held for the last ten years.

The United States is better made, gives better results, is less trouble to clean, and needs less repairs than any other separator on the market.

The U. S. Holds the World's Record

THE VERMONT FARM MACHINE COMPANY, Bellows Falls, Vt.

Warehouses at Chicago, Minneapolis, Omaha, La Crosse, Wis., Portland, Me., Kansas City, Mo., Buffalo, N. Y., San Francisco, Cal., Montreal and Sherbrooke, Que., Hamilton, Ont.

Statue of Frances Willard.

Last week the State of Illinois presented to the United States a statue of Frances E. Willard, which has been placed in Statuary Hall at the Capitol, Washington, and is the first statue of a woman in that National Hall of Fame. Through the influence of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union this tribute to a woman distinguished in the field of moral reform has been secured.

The following is a description of the statue:

"It is of Carrara marble, a little larger than life size, and represents Miss Willard in the act of delivering an address. The face is strong and lifelike. The expression is animated, the right arm rests upon a reading desk and the left hand grasps a few pages of manuscript. It has been very highly commended by competent critics. Mr. St. Gaudens, than whom there is no better authority, says: 'She has succeeded far beyond my expectations, and has made a purely distinctive work; one showing in a way, that it seems to me only a woman could do; the union of strength with feminine gentleness—a quality most tender and elusive, but which she has most certainly infused into her work.'"

The inscription on the pedestal is the following extract from one of Miss Willard's addresses:

"Ah! it is women who have given the costliest hostages to fortune. Out into the battle of life they have sent their best beloved, with fearful odds against them. Oh, by dangers they have dared; by the hours of patient watching over beds where helpless children lay; by the incense of 10,000 prayers wafted from their gentle lips to heaven, I charge you give them power to protect along life's treacherous highway those whom they have so loved."

Consumption

There is no specific for consumption. Fresh air, exercise, nourishing food and Scott's Emulsion will come pretty near curing it, if there is anything to build on. Millions of people throughout the world are living and in good health on one lung.

From time immemorial the doctors prescribed cod liver oil for consumption. Of course the patient could not take it in its old form, hence it did very little good. They can take and tolerate it for a long time. There is no oil, not excepting butter, so easily digested and absorbed by the system as cod liver oil in the form of Scott's Emulsion, and that is the reason it is so helpful in consumption where its use must be continuous.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Scott & Bowne
Chemists
409 Pearl Street
New York

Killed by Train

A terrible accident occurred yesterday afternoon at a railroad crossing near Concord on the St. Johnsbury & Lake Champlain railroad, by which Mrs. Jonathan Ross of St. Johnsbury was instantly killed and her husband, ex-Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Vermont and ex-United States Senator, was seriously injured. They were returning home from a sleigh ride, when the horse became unmanageable and started to cross the railroad tracks as a freight train approached in the same direction. The train reached the crossing first and when the horse arrived there he made a quick turn, throwing the occupants of the sleigh against the train. Mrs. Ross was thrown against the truck and her skull crushed. Death was instantaneous. Judge Ross received a severe scalp wound, numerous bruises and a hip is broken and at last reports to-day he remains unconscious in a hospital at St. Johnsbury.

NORTH WOLCOTT.

O. F. Crowell was in town last Friday. A new boy arrived at Charles Lurvey's last week. A sister of Mrs. Maria Gallup, from abroad, is visiting her. Miss Florence Wells visited her aunt in Morrisville Monday. Mrs. F. O. Lunt was a caller at J. F. Holton's last Friday. D. M. Holton is in Morrisville, a guest of his sister, Mrs. F. O. Lunt. A. E. Woodmansee returned from his work in Hardwick last Wednesday. Mrs. James Lane has been stopping the past week with Mrs. Inez Ross. Mrs. Will Fisk goes to Sutton, P. Q., this week to see her sister, who is sick. Ernest Andrews is sick with the prevailing disease and under the doctor's care. Nelson Reed and wife and Miss Blanche Andrews visited in Morrisville last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Udall went to Keegan last Saturday to visit the latter's sister, Mrs. Flora Pike. Miss Gladys Lane, who has been stopping in Walpole with her aunt, is now at home with her parents. Miss Grace Crowell is stopping for a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Davis, on Town Hill. Mrs. Anna Sanborn of Hardwick has come to spend the remainder of the winter with her daughter, Mrs. A. E. Woodmansee. There was no preaching here last Sunday, on account of the drifted roads. A social meeting followed the Sunday-school with the regular prayer service in the evening.

NO. CAMBRIDGE.

W. W. Chase is drawing timber for a woodshed. The Reynolds millyard is full of custom logs. Elmer Witherell is to move to East Fletcher Monday. J. S. Kinley is to build a hen ranch the coming summer. Chester Allen was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Curtis Sunday. Charles Graylin a former resident, called on friends here Saturday. D. C. Walker was in Hyde Park and Morrisville on business the past week. Mrs. Luther Greene is passing a few days with her son, Oakley Greene, of Shelton. Rev. Mr. Allen has so far recovered from the distemper as to file the desk on Sunday. This community is rejoicing over the slow, but seemingly sure, recovery of Mrs. James Patch. Many in this section are used up with the prevailing distemper. Only a few have escaped it. The social meeting at the church Sunday evening was largely attended. Rev. C. W. Tress led. The Ladies' Aid will give an oyster supper at the church Friday evening of this week. All are cordially invited. Our highly esteemed neighbor, Mrs. F. H. Rice, is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Fairbanks, at Hyde Park.

ELMORE.

E. E. Camp has been on the sick list. Russell Gay is suffering from the effects of a shock. Miss Etta Peo returned to the Mary Fletcher hospital Monday, for treatment. People in this vicinity are drawing water from the Pond brook, on account of a freeze-up and low water. Ott Styles was brought before Justice Delano Monday for disturbing the peace, this being his third offense. Lewis Harlow, who had his hand severely cut some time ago, has resumed his work at the Stowe Lumber Co.'s mill. Elmer Graylin, who has been at work for the Stowe Lumber Co., has been seriously ill. His condition is slightly improved at this writing. Ossie Styles of Stowe was arraigned before Squire Delano Monday evening on a charge of intoxication. It being his third offense he was fined $15.00 and costs, amounting to $23.00. Deputy Sheriff Griswold arrested the respondent at Stowe. It is not safe for drunkards to visit Elmore when in a state of inebriation. Farmers, remember the agricultural meeting at Stowe next Tuesday. Every tax-payer should take an interest in town affairs.

NORTH HYDE PARK.

Whew, How hot it is! Carroll Newton from Boston is to open the Valley House March 1st. Leon Bailey is confined to the house by illness. His store is looked after by Linus Leach. Singing school this week at the Advent church. Everybody enjoys Friday and Saturday evenings. The Y. P. S. C. E. will meet at the home of Mrs. Eliza Hinds Thursday evening next at 7.30 o'clock. All be present.

Allen & Chaffee have closed their log job and now ready for March meeting and sugaring, if the weather is favorable. Mrs. Mattie Hodges Folardeau, from White River Junction, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hodges, for a few days. Elinus Smith had the misfortune to lose a nice yearling heifer last week. She died with a broken neck, caused by too much rope.

The Ladies' Mite Society are booked to meet at the home of Frank Hazard and wife next Thursday afternoon and evening, the 23d. All are cordially invited to come and partake at the usual price.

S. K. Vaughan & Sons can go to the head as wood sawyers. They have destroyed about every woodpile within ten miles of here. They do their work with neatness and dispatch at reasonable prices. We know whereof we speak. Dr. Stevenson, from Morrisville made another raid on the cows in this vicinity last week. He tested seventeen, two of which he found diseased, which he slayed. One he found with neck broke, which made three in all, located in this village.

The local scribe visited the county seat yesterday. He found the editor happy, Judge White pursuing the even tenor of his ways, the County Clerk cogitating upon the ungratefulness of humanity in general, business quiet at the Lilley dispensary, and the Sheriff away.

On the sick list: Mrs. William Hodges, Geo. Olds, Elder Sanborn, Mrs. Harmon Griswold; Improving: Justus Foss, Mrs. Sweeney. Better: Mrs. C. Eastman. There may be others that ought to go into this classified list, but the "Society Editor" has not learned of any.

Vernon Whitcomb and wife are delighted these days on the arrival of a little daughter to grace their happy home. Dr. Prentiss of Johnsbury introduced the young lady to her new friends with a few appropriate and affecting remarks doing himself much credit, as he ever does on those solemn-happy occasions.

Cassius Griswold's little five-year-old son received a severe injury to his right eye last week. He was watching his father at work in a blacksmith shop, and a piece of nail flew from a horseshoe his father was working on, striking the little fellow in the eye. The boy was taken to St. Johnsbury, where a specialist found that the eye can be saved, but that the sight is destroyed.

RIVERSIDE.

Uncle Darius Felcher is still in very poor health. Darius Felcher Jr. and wife were in Waterville last week. Lesley Minor has rented David Trudo's place for the coming year. Fred Crowell and family have been sick with the prevailing disease. Ed Lilley and wife spent Sunday afternoon at the North village with C. M. Gray and wife. Mail Carrier Noyes failed to make his regular trip two days recently on account of bad roads. Willie Boyes has rented the Lucius Boyes house near the Wiswell district and is to take immediate possession. David Trudo has bought of Almon Crowell the Joseph Boyes lot and his tenement house on the corner of Main and Hadley Streets and is to take possession at once. Former residents of this place have a great affection for it and whenever possible they gladly return to dear old Battle Row.

EDEN.

Perley Knowles is at home. Mrs. Fannie Atwell is reported better. Mrs. Sadie Whitcomb has gone to Wolcott. Mrs. J. F. Knowles remains about the same. Cornelius Baker and wife are both very poorly. Work at the Hunt steam mill will cease very soon—the logs being run out. Miss Jennie Emery visited at Cassius Griswold's in No. Hyde Park the last of the week. Wedding bells—"Again we hear that Wedding day," is drawing near—etc. concluded next week. Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "Deacon," formerly owned by Fred Atwell, lately by L. I. Sylvester, died last Friday, after an illness of only a few hours. "Still they come!" the snow storms we mean. The last one was more wind than snow, yet there was enough of the snow to wipe out all vestige of road in some places. While hearing much of the clamor and discontent, arising from the survey of affairs politically and otherwise, we cannot get away from this thought: there is a higher life to work by, a loftier place to occupy than has been considered, [judging from remarks made on several occasions] when anyone desires to get away from God and duty made plain, they can always find plenty of company, and the downhill way is very easy, no effort, no struggle, just a slipshod, go-easy way, and the end or bolting place is not always the most desirable. Satan commands "cast thyself down," but God says, "arise." Everyone must and is obeying the one or the other, which way is it going, which way are the interests of our community or town, tending? The question needs careful thought, and a thoughtful answer.

EDEN MILLS.

Mrs. S. A. Stone is not any better. Mabel Stone visited in Lowell a part of last week. Mrs. Ira Whittemore is visiting her son George for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Whittemore visited in North Hyde Park Tuesday. L. I. Sylvester had the misfortune to lose a horse last week; cause, inflammation of the bowels. Charlie Baker had the misfortune to lose a cow last week. It got cast in the barn and choked to death. They have finished sawing in Hunt's mill in the west part of the town and G. E. Stone and Harry Bickford are home.

CENTERVILLE.

Mrs. Delos Peake was a visitor at the Street Wednesday. Miss Lela Collins goes to Stowe this week for a few days' visit. Mrs. Chas. Campbell of Barre was a visitor here a short time last week. Some from here took in the basket ball game at the village Friday eve. E. G. Sherwin has been giving attention the past few days to a sort of grip attack. Some of our farmers are putting up ice. They get it from the Roddy pond at the Street. It is a good clear ice. Merrill Davis and wife of Waterville were visitors at A. C. Davis' recently. Their visit was somewhat prolonged on account of the storm.

MCKINSTRY HILL.

Not much news this week. C. Manning and wife were in Morrisville Monday. Miss Ethel Thompson is visiting friends in Waterville. Ned Cowan is sick with bilious fever. Dr. Stevens is in attendance. Mrs. G. R. Stewart and daughters, Olga and Weldie, from No. Hyde Park, visited their friend, Mrs. Orvis Jones, recently. W. C. Jones, agent for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., was over the Hill the first of the week, looking after business. Wallace is a hustler and one that will prosper.

EDEN.

Perley Knowles is at home. Mrs. Fannie Atwell is reported better. Mrs. Sadie Whitcomb has gone to Wolcott. Mrs. J. F. Knowles remains about the same. Cornelius Baker and wife are both very poorly. Work at the Hunt steam mill will cease very soon—the logs being run out. Miss Jennie Emery visited at Cassius Griswold's in No. Hyde Park the last of the week. Wedding bells—"Again we hear that Wedding day," is drawing near—etc. concluded next week. Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "Deacon," formerly owned by Fred Atwell, lately by L. I. Sylvester, died last Friday, after an illness of only a few hours. "Still they come!" the snow storms we mean. The last one was more wind than snow, yet there was enough of the snow to wipe out all vestige of road in some places. While hearing much of the clamor and discontent, arising from the survey of affairs politically and otherwise, we cannot get away from this thought: there is a higher life to work by, a loftier place to occupy than has been considered, [judging from remarks made on several occasions] when anyone desires to get away from God and duty made plain, they can always find plenty of company, and the downhill way is very easy, no effort, no struggle, just a slipshod, go-easy way, and the end or bolting place is not always the most desirable. Satan commands "cast thyself down," but God says, "arise." Everyone must and is obeying the one or the other, which way is it going, which way are the interests of our community or town, tending? The question needs careful thought, and a thoughtful answer.

Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "Deacon," formerly owned by Fred Atwell, lately by L. I. Sylvester, died last Friday, after an illness of only a few hours. "Still they come!" the snow storms we mean. The last one was more wind than snow, yet there was enough of the snow to wipe out all vestige of road in some places. While hearing much of the clamor and discontent, arising from the survey of affairs politically and otherwise, we cannot get away from this thought: there is a higher life to work by, a loftier place to occupy than has been considered, [judging from remarks made on several occasions] when anyone desires to get away from God and duty made plain, they can always find plenty of company, and the downhill way is very easy, no effort, no struggle, just a slipshod, go-easy way, and the end or bolting place is not always the most desirable. Satan commands "cast thyself down," but God says, "arise." Everyone must and is obeying the one or the other, which way is it going, which way are the interests of our community or town, tending? The question needs careful thought, and a thoughtful answer.

Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "Deacon," formerly owned by Fred Atwell, lately by L. I. Sylvester, died last Friday, after an illness of only a few hours. "Still they come!" the snow storms we mean. The last one was more wind than snow, yet there was enough of the snow to wipe out all vestige of road in some places. While hearing much of the clamor and discontent, arising from the survey of affairs politically and otherwise, we cannot get away from this thought: there is a higher life to work by, a loftier place to occupy than has been considered, [judging from remarks made on several occasions] when anyone desires to get away from God and duty made plain, they can always find plenty of company, and the downhill way is very easy, no effort, no struggle, just a slipshod, go-easy way, and the end or bolting place is not always the most desirable. Satan commands "cast thyself down," but God says, "arise." Everyone must and is obeying the one or the other, which way is it going, which way are the interests of our community or town, tending? The question needs careful thought, and a thoughtful answer.

Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "Deacon," formerly owned by Fred Atwell, lately by L. I. Sylvester, died last Friday, after an illness of only a few hours. "Still they come!" the snow storms we mean. The last one was more wind than snow, yet there was enough of the snow to wipe out all vestige of road in some places. While hearing much of the clamor and discontent, arising from the survey of affairs politically and otherwise, we cannot get away from this thought: there is a higher life to work by, a loftier place to occupy than has been considered, [judging from remarks made on several occasions] when anyone desires to get away from God and duty made plain, they can always find plenty of company, and the downhill way is very easy, no effort, no struggle, just a slipshod, go-easy way, and the end or bolting place is not always the most desirable. Satan commands "cast thyself down," but God says, "arise." Everyone must and is obeying the one or the other, which way is it going, which way are the interests of our community or town, tending? The question needs careful thought, and a thoughtful answer.

Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "Deacon," formerly owned by Fred Atwell, lately by L. I. Sylvester, died last Friday, after an illness of only a few hours. "Still they come!" the snow storms we mean. The last one was more wind than snow, yet there was enough of the snow to wipe out all vestige of road in some places. While hearing much of the clamor and discontent, arising from the survey of affairs politically and otherwise, we cannot get away from this thought: there is a higher life to work by, a loftier place to occupy than has been considered, [judging from remarks made on several occasions] when anyone desires to get away from God and duty made plain, they can always find plenty of company, and the downhill way is very easy, no effort, no struggle, just a slipshod, go-easy way, and the end or bolting place is not always the most desirable. Satan commands "cast thyself down," but God says, "arise." Everyone must and is obeying the one or the other, which way is it going, which way are the interests of our community or town, tending? The question needs careful thought, and a thoughtful answer.

Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "Deacon," formerly owned by Fred Atwell, lately by L. I. Sylvester, died last Friday, after an illness of only a few hours. "Still they come!" the snow storms we mean. The last one was more wind than snow, yet there was enough of the snow to wipe out all vestige of road in some places. While hearing much of the clamor and discontent, arising from the survey of affairs politically and otherwise, we cannot get away from this thought: there is a higher life to work by, a loftier place to occupy than has been considered, [judging from remarks made on several occasions] when anyone desires to get away from God and duty made plain, they can always find plenty of company, and the downhill way is very easy, no effort, no struggle, just a slipshod, go-easy way, and the end or bolting place is not always the most desirable. Satan commands "cast thyself down," but God says, "arise." Everyone must and is obeying the one or the other, which way is it going, which way are the interests of our community or town, tending? The question needs careful thought, and a thoughtful answer.

Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "Deacon," formerly owned by Fred Atwell, lately by L. I. Sylvester, died last Friday, after an illness of only a few hours. "Still they come!" the snow storms we mean. The last one was more wind than snow, yet there was enough of the snow to wipe out all vestige of road in some places. While hearing much of the clamor and discontent, arising from the survey of affairs politically and otherwise, we cannot get away from this thought: there is a higher life to work by, a loftier place to occupy than has been considered, [judging from remarks made on several occasions] when anyone desires to get away from God and duty made plain, they can always find plenty of company, and the downhill way is very easy, no effort, no struggle, just a slipshod, go-easy way, and the end or bolting place is not always the most desirable. Satan commands "cast thyself down," but God says, "arise." Everyone must and is obeying the one or the other, which way is it going, which way are the interests of our community or town, tending? The question needs careful thought, and a thoughtful answer.

Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "Deacon," formerly owned by Fred Atwell, lately by L. I. Sylvester, died last Friday, after an illness of only a few hours. "Still they come!" the snow storms we mean. The last one was more wind than snow, yet there was enough of the snow to wipe out all vestige of road in some places. While hearing much of the clamor and discontent, arising from the survey of affairs politically and otherwise, we cannot get away from this thought: there is a higher life to work by, a loftier place to occupy than has been considered, [judging from remarks made on several occasions] when anyone desires to get away from God and duty made plain, they can always find plenty of company, and the downhill way is very easy, no effort, no struggle, just a slipshod, go-easy way, and the end or bolting place is not always the most desirable. Satan commands "cast thyself down," but God says, "arise." Everyone must and is obeying the one or the other, which way is it going, which way are the interests of our community or town, tending? The question needs careful thought, and a thoughtful answer.

Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "Deacon," formerly owned by Fred Atwell, lately by L. I. Sylvester, died last Friday, after an illness of only a few hours. "Still they come!" the snow storms we mean. The last one was more wind than snow, yet there was enough of the snow to wipe out all vestige of road in some places. While hearing much of the clamor and discontent, arising from the survey of affairs politically and otherwise, we cannot get away from this thought: there is a higher life to work by, a loftier place to occupy than has been considered, [judging from remarks made on several occasions] when anyone desires to get away from God and duty made plain, they can always find plenty of company, and the downhill way is very easy, no effort, no struggle, just a slipshod, go-easy way, and the end or bolting place is not always the most desirable. Satan commands "cast thyself down," but God says, "arise." Everyone must and is obeying the one or the other, which way is it going, which way are the interests of our community or town, tending? The question needs careful thought, and a thoughtful answer.

Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "Deacon," formerly owned by Fred Atwell, lately by L. I. Sylvester, died last Friday, after an illness of only a few hours. "Still they come!" the snow storms we mean. The last one was more wind than snow, yet there was enough of the snow to wipe out all vestige of road in some places. While hearing much of the clamor and discontent, arising from the survey of affairs politically and otherwise, we cannot get away from this thought: there is a higher life to work by, a loftier place to occupy than has been considered, [judging from remarks made on several occasions] when anyone desires to get away from God and duty made plain, they can always find plenty of company, and the downhill way is very easy, no effort, no struggle, just a slipshod, go-easy way, and the end or bolting place is not always the most desirable. Satan commands "cast thyself down," but God says, "arise." Everyone must and is obeying the one or the other, which way is it going, which way are the interests of our community or town, tending? The question needs careful thought, and a thoughtful answer.

Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "Deacon," formerly owned by Fred Atwell, lately by L. I. Sylvester, died last Friday, after an illness of only a few hours. "Still they come!" the snow storms we mean. The last one was more wind than snow, yet there was enough of the snow to wipe out all vestige of road in some places. While hearing much of the clamor and discontent, arising from the survey of affairs politically and otherwise, we cannot get away from this thought: there is a higher life to work by, a loftier place to occupy than has been considered, [judging from remarks made on several occasions] when anyone desires to get away from God and duty made plain, they can always find plenty of company, and the downhill way is very easy, no effort, no struggle, just a slipshod, go-easy way, and the end or bolting place is not always the most desirable. Satan commands "cast thyself down," but God says, "arise." Everyone must and is obeying the one or the other, which way is it going, which way are the interests of our community or town, tending? The question needs careful thought, and a thoughtful answer.

Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "Deacon," formerly owned by Fred Atwell, lately by L. I. Sylvester, died last Friday, after an illness of only a few hours. "Still they come!" the snow storms we mean. The last one was more wind than snow, yet there was enough of the snow to wipe out all vestige of road in some places. While hearing much of the clamor and discontent, arising from the survey of affairs politically and otherwise, we cannot get away from this thought: there is a higher life to work by, a loftier place to occupy than has been considered, [judging from remarks made on several occasions] when anyone desires to get away from God and duty made plain, they can always find plenty of company, and the downhill way is very easy, no effort, no struggle, just a slipshod, go-easy way, and the end or bolting place is not always the most desirable. Satan commands "cast thyself down," but God says, "arise." Everyone must and is obeying the one or the other, which way is it going, which way are the interests of our community or town, tending? The question needs careful thought, and a thoughtful answer.

Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "Deacon," formerly owned by Fred Atwell, lately by L. I. Sylvester, died last Friday, after an illness of only a few hours. "Still they come!" the snow storms we mean. The last one was more wind than snow, yet there was enough of the snow to wipe out all vestige of road in some places. While hearing much of the clamor and discontent, arising from the survey of affairs politically and otherwise, we cannot get away from this thought: there is a higher life to work by, a loftier place to occupy than has been considered, [judging from remarks made on several occasions] when anyone desires to get away from God and duty made plain, they can always find plenty of company, and the downhill way is very easy, no effort, no struggle, just a slipshod, go-easy way, and the end or bolting place is not always the most desirable. Satan commands "cast thyself down," but God says, "arise." Everyone must and is obeying the one or the other, which way is it going, which way are the interests of our community or town, tending? The question needs careful thought, and a thoughtful answer.

Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "Deacon," formerly owned by Fred Atwell, lately by L. I. Sylvester, died last Friday, after an illness of only a few hours. "Still they come!" the snow storms we mean. The last one was more wind than snow, yet there was enough of the snow to wipe out all vestige of road in some places. While hearing much of the clamor and discontent, arising from the survey of affairs politically and otherwise, we cannot get away from this thought: there is a higher life to work by, a loftier place to occupy than has been considered, [judging from remarks made on several occasions] when anyone desires to get away from God and duty made plain, they can always find plenty of company, and the downhill way is very easy, no effort, no struggle, just a slipshod, go-easy way, and the end or bolting place is not always the most desirable. Satan commands "cast thyself down," but God says, "arise." Everyone must and is obeying the one or the other, which way is it going, which way are the interests of our community or town, tending? The question needs careful thought, and a thoughtful answer.

Remember the meeting of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., Saturday Feb. 25th, at their hall in No. Hyde Park. A full attendance is desired. Charlie Baker found one of his nice heifers lying in his stable a few mornings ago. He hitches them with chains usually considered safe. Mrs. Laura King from Montgomery came after her son the first of the week. He has been stopping for some time with his grandparents, J. T. Emery and wife. The colt known as "De